The Science of Health!
Every Man his own Physician.
HOLLOWAY'S PILLS
—AND—
Holloway's Ointment.

Disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

The stomach is the great center which influences the health or disease of the system—abused or debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, mental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, etc. The bowels sympathize by costiveness, diarrhœa and Dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

Erysipelas and Salt Rheum

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent. To these the Ointment is especially antagonistic; its modus operandi is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.

Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers.

Cases of many years' standing, that have pertinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful unguent.

Eruptions of the Skin,

Arising from a bad state of the blood, or chronic diseases, are eradicated and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative action of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

Female Complaints,

Whether in the young or old, married or single at the dawn of Womanhood, or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation. They are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.

Piles and Fistula.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stuborn diseases is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases: Bunions, burns, chapped hands, chilblains, fistula, gout, lumbago, mercurial eruptions, piles, rheumatism, ringworm, salt-rheum, scalds, skin diseases, swelled glands, sore legs, sore breasts, sore heads, sore throats, sores of all kinds, sprains, stiff joints, tetter, ulcers, venereal sores and wounds of all kinds.

CAUTION.—See that the words "Holloway, New York and London," appear as a watermark on every leaf of the book of directions which enfolds each box or pot. No others are genuine. A handsome reward given for information leading to the detection of counterfeiters of the medicines and venders of the deceptive articles, knowing them to be such. Sold at the manufactory, No. 80 Maiden Lane, and by druggists and medicine dealers throughout the world. A great saving by taking the large sizes. Full instructions with every box or pot. f6-1y

"I Have no Father There."

I saw a wide and well-spread board,
And children young and fair
Come one by one—the eldest first,
And took their stations there.

All neatly clad and beautiful,
And with familiar tread;
They gathered round with joy to feast
On meats and snow-white bread.

Beside the board, the father sat,
A smile his features worg;
As on the little group he gazed,
And told their portions o'er.

A meagre form arrayed in rags,
Anear the threshold stood;
A half-starved child had wandered there
To beg a little food.

Said one: "Why standest here, my dear?
See, there's a vacant seat,
Amid the children—and enough
For them and thee to eat."

"Alas for me!" the child replied,
In tones of deep despair,
"No right have I amid your group,
I have no father there."

O hour of fate, when from the skies,
With notes of deepest dread,
The far-resounding trump of God
Shall summon forth the dead—

What countless hosts shall stand without
The heavenly threshold fair,
And gazing on the blest, exclaim
"I have no Father there!"

CURIOUS CONFESSIONS OF A CONVICTED MURDERER.—On Thursday, Stephen Abbot, confined in New Haven for the murder of Apollos M. Bronson, made a confession. He had agreed with Bronson to help poison a man named Welton, and burn his barn, for which he had received money and a gun in advance. After this they met in a barn at night when both were under the influence of liquor. Says Abbott: Bronson had a jug; it had liquor in it, and he was going to fill it for me to take up to Henry Welton. I told him that I would have no hand in it. He said I had got to, for I had took the gun to bind the bargain. I told him I would have no act or part in anything further. He insisted upon it. I told him I would expose the whole plan when I went up to Waterville. He says, "Damn you, will you?" and clutched the ax that stood behind the door. He came towards me with the ax. There was a plank put up in the center of the barn that McCook used to plane out little slats for a fence. I dodged around that, and he struck at me; but when the ax came down I grabbed it by the handle, and I never let go of it again. We had quite a struggle for the mastership of the ax. I got the ax from him. He then got a strip of board, and struck at me with it. He hit me a blow, so that at the time I was arrested my left arm, from the elbow to the shoulder, was black and blue. I struck him with the ax flatwise, or I meant to do so. He fell upon his knees and grabbed me by the legs. We had a good tussel before I got free, but I still held on to the ax. I came upon my feet about the same time that he did. We were both down at that time. He grabbed by the knees, and that put me over backwards. He hung to me like a tick. When I got liberated from him I hit him again. He dove for me again, but I got out of his reach that time. I struck him again, and he lay senseless. I did not strike him more than three times. The last time I struck him I think I hit him on the back or side of the head. When he lay there and did not show fight, I went and took hold of him and lifted him up, and found that he was dead. I had no idea of killing him. He afterwards plundered the body, and hid it away, taking care to obliterate, as nearly as possible, all traces of the struggle. Abbott is 52 years old.

CITIES AS TYPES OF IDEAS.—A great city, whose image dwells in the memory of man, is type of some great idea. Rome represents conquest. Faith hovers over the towers of Jerusalem; and Athens embodies art, the pre-eminent quality of the antique world. In modern ages, commerce has created London: while manners, in the most comprehensive sense of the word, have long found a supreme capital in the airy, gay city of the Seine. What art was to the ancient world, science is to the modern. In the minds of men, the useful has succeeded to the beautiful, and Manchester fifty years ago a small Lancashire village, has expanded into a mighty region of factories and warehouses. New York conveys the idea of a vast railroad and telegraphic centre; while Chicago, the restless pioneer of the Old World's progress, is in itself a small empire of action, where each individual citizen is willing to risk breaking his neck if he can only accomplish something a few minutes before his neighbor. Boston and books are synonymous, and Philadelphia's continuity of uniform brick houses are sufficiently suggestive of calmness and Quaker simplicity. When one mentions New Orleans, the imagination immediately pictures a semi-tropical city, full of the languid and voluptuous repose of Creole life; whereas Cincinnati dispels all romantic vision and immediately becomes the posy Porkopolis. San Francisco, being made up of adventurers, gives one the idea of vigorous speculative life, as much as Quebec, the finished town of America, does of antiquated stagnation.—[N. Y. World.

TIME.—Time is the most undefinable, yet paradoxical of things; the past is gone, the future is not come, and the present becomes the past even while we attempt to define it; and, like the flash of the lightning, at once exists and expires. Time is the measure of all things, but is in itself unmeasurable; and the grand discloser of all things, but it is itself undisclosed. Like space, it is incomprehensible, because it has no limits; and it would be still more so if it had. It is more obscure in its source than the Nile, and in its termination than the Niger; and advances like the slowest tide, but retreats like the swiftest torrent. It gives wings of lightning to pleasure, feet of lead to pain; and lends expectation a curb, but enjoyment a spur.

TO CLEAN KID GLOVES.—First see that your hands are clean; then put on your gloves and wash them, as though you were washing your hands, in a basin of turpentine, until quite clean; hang them up in a warm place, or where there is a good current of air, which will carry off the smell of the terpentine. This method was brought from Paris, and many thousand dollars have been saved by it.

An Irish Footman.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "HOURS IN HINDOSTAN."

Lady H—— was one of the most amiable, good creatures that ever existed; yet Lady H—— did not acknowledge that she was longer a young woman. She had arrived at that ticklish age for females, forty-two, when her complexion was no longer fresh as at twenty-five, and her hair suddenly began to show gray tints. She did not like these signs of preccious old age. To remedy the first, there were a thousand ways, but it took her some time to reflect how to hide the second.

At length she determined to have it dyed, very properly considering that a wig, or even false hair, is always detestable. So she sent for Mr. Donegan, a well-known hair-dyer; and after learning that the process itself only lasted a single half hour, and that the very following moment her locks would shine in all the resplendency of polished black jet, she determined as she was engaged that evening to Hertford House, to make her appearance there in all the glory of renovated youth, she accordingly bid Mr. Donegan to come at eleven at night, when his entrance, his exit, and above all, his business was least likely to be known or observed.

The evening came; the dyer of hair was anxiously expected by Lady H——. Her toilet completed, her ladyship began to watch anxiously the dial of her dressing-room clock. But all in vain. Eleven struck, half past eleven came, and no Mr. Donegan.

"Run down, Charlton," said Lady H—— to her maid, "run down, and ask Matthew if the hair-dresser has not yet been."

The appeal was made to Matthew Riley, the Irish footman, who stoutly averred that the coiffeur had not called.

"It is very odd," said her ladyship when Charlton returned, "for I heard the bell ring twice. But, never mind, he can't be long," and she resumed reading her favorite study, "Rejected Addresses."

The bell sounded again, but without result; and poor Lady H—— began to fear she would lose the pleasure of meeting the Prince Regent for that evening. The patience of a female has always a conclusion; so when the ring was repeated, she turned round, and desired her maid to run down, as she felt assured that no one but the hair-dresser could possibly call at such an hour.

Charlton went, and found Matthew in a towering passion.

"Is that the hair-dresser?"

"No, it's not," and he turned angrily away.

"Who was it at the door?"

"Don't bother. The dirty blackguard!" and the footman turned away muttering.

Charlton returned to her mistress, who, being anything but satisfied with the answer, again sent her down to know who it was that had been.

Matthew looked very angry when the query was put to him, and began murmuring something to himself about "the rascal," and kicking, and beating, and all sorts of ill-tempered threats.

"That's nothing to do with it," said his fellow-servant. "Who was it that rang?"

"A blackguard."

"Who?"

"An impudent blackguard. By dad, if I had him in Ireland, I'd tache him better.

"Who was it?"

"I don't know, the thief of the world."

"What did he want?"

"What is it? want? Sure I'll be after telling ye, as ye are so curious, for it's myself asked him the question."

"Well—go on."

'Says I, 'What do you want at this my fine lad?'"

"'I'll tell your missus,' said he. 'Devil a bit,' says I, 'till ye've tould me first.' 'My business is with the Lady,' says he. 'It will keep warm till to-morrow,' then says I; 'for the deuce an inch you get in till I know what you want.' 'Can you keep a secret?' says he. 'Can a duck swim?' says I. Upon that he came close to me, and says he—but arrah you won't belave me."

"Indeed, I will."

"Well, then, says he, 'I come to die hare.' 'Die hare?' says I. 'Yes,' says he. 'And where would you wish to die?' says I 'In your missus' room,' says he. So with that I slam'd the door in his face."

"Indeed! Then you have done wrong," said Charlton, ready to die with laughing.

"By dad, he came back again just now, and says he again, as pert as may be, 'Tell your missus I'm come to die hare.'"

"Well, what did you say?"

"What did I say? Sure I said what, every honest boy would."

"And what was that?"

"Be jabers, said I, 'ye're a big blackguard and an ugly Christian; and you'll not die hare. Go somewhere else and die, you scamp of the world! Die hare, indeed!' So I gave him a push, and shut the door in his face, and by dad I'm thinking he'll niver come here again to die."

The mistake was too ludicrous. Even Lady H—— laughed at it, although deprived for that night of a pleasant royal rout.

A LAUNDRY SECRET.—The following recipe for doing up shirts will be found of use to many housewives: Take two ounces of fine white gum arabic and pour on a pint or more of water—and then, having covered it, let stand all night. In the morning pour it carefully from the dregs into a clean bottle, cork it and keep it for use. A table-spoonful of gum water stirred in a pint of starch made in the usual manner, will give to lawns, either white or printed, a look of newness, when nothing else can restore them after they have been washed.

A STUFFED BEEFSTEAK.—Prepare of bread scalded soft and mixed with plenty of butter and a little pepper and salt. Lay it one side of a round of steak, cover with another, and baste it down with needle and thread. Salt and pepper the outside of the steak and place it in a dripping-pan with half and inch of water. When baked on one side, turn and bake the other.

SWEET POTATO PUDDING.—One pound of sweet potatoes, boiled and mashed fine, or grated while hot, six eggs well beaten, three-quarters pound of sugar, the same of butter, a grated lemon rind, and nut-meg, a wine glass of brandy; line the dish with paste. When it is baked sprinkle the top with pulverized sugar.

THE CARNIVAL OF CRIME IN NEW YORK.—For a month past, says the New York Sun, this city has abounded in horrors. Beginning with the Rogers murder, nearly every morning has spread before our citizens the details of some robbery or burglary, often accompanied by violence. The well-being of society requires that, so soon as these culprits are clearly identified, their punishment should be swift and sure. A summary judgment, and an execution that should follow with the rapidity of a logical deduction from undisputed premises, is all that can strike terror into the souls of wretches who neither fear God nor regard man. For example: When the authorities have made up their minds as to who was the assassin of Rogers, and have facts in their possession that will establish his guilt, he should be indicted on Monday, tried and convicted on Tuesday, and hanged on Wednesday. Such summary proceedings would send dismay throughout the ranks of rascality in this city, while they would rejoice the heart of every law-abiding inhabitant on our island. It is a mistake to suppose that any interest can suffer by teaching these felons that the immunity from conviction, and the delay in their punishment, which in so many instances have been meted out to them, are at an end. They belong to no sect. They are simply outlaws, and according to the forms of law, they should be placed beyond the social pale as promptly as we cage wild beasts or exterminate mad dogs.

MARRIED LIFE.—Good counsel from a wife and mother: I try to make myself and all around me agreeable. It will not do to leave a man to himself till he comes to you, to take no pains to attract him, or to appear before him with a long face. It is not so difficult as you think, dear child, to behave to a husband so that he shall remain for ever in some measure a lover. I am an old woman, but you can still do what you like; a word from you at the right time will not fail of its effects; what need have you to play the suffering virtue? The tear of a loving girl, says an old book, is like a dew-drop on a rose; but that on the cheek of a wife is a drop of poison to her husband. Try to appear cheerful and contented, and your husband will be so; and when you have made him happy, you will become so, not in appearance but in reality. The skill required is not great. Nothing flatters a man so much as the happiness of his wife; he is always proud of himself as the source of it. As soon as you are cheerful you will be lively and alert, and every moment will afford you an opportunity to let fall an agreeable word. Your education, which gives you an immense advantage, will greatly assist you; and your sensibility will become the noblest gift that nature has bestowed on you, when it shows itself in affectionate assiduity, and stamps on every action a soft, kind and tender character, instead of wasting itself in repinings.

AIMLESS EDUCATION.—Here is the rich man's son, who has been educated at great expense and pains, and who has graduated from college, and has come out a gentleman! He has studied not with a view to fitting himself for any avocation in life, but with a view of being a gentleman. He reads not for the sake of knowing anything, but for the sake of being a gentleman. Soon his father breaks down; and he, when he is about twenty-five years old, finds himself a poor man's son, and dependent on his own exertions. And he says to himself, "What shall I do for a living?" He asks his feet and his feet say, "I do not know." He asks his hands, and they say, "I do not know." He asks his head, and it says, "I never learnt anything about how to get a living." There is but one man that can befriend this poor wretch, and that is the sexton. Could anything be more useless than such a person? Can there be anything more pitiable than such histories? And yet they are happening every day.

LOVELINESS.—What constitutes true loveliness? Not the polished brow, the gaudy dress, nor the show and parade of fashionable life. A woman may have all the outward marks of beauty, and yet not possess a lovely character. It is the benevolent disposition, the kind acts, and the Christian deportment. It is in the heart, where meekness, truth, affection, humility are found, where we look for loveliness, nor do we look in vain. The woman who can soothe the aching heart, smooth the wrinkled brow, alleviate the anguish of the mind, and pour the balm of consolation in the wounded breast possesses in an eminent degree, true loveliness of character. It is such a character that blesses with warmth and sunshine, and maketh earth to resemble the paradise of God.

A BAD NIGHT.—A gentleman was once dicing with a friend, when a most dreadful storm arose. In hopes of abatement, the entertainment was prolonged to the latest possible hour; but at length it was over, and the storm showed no signs of ceasing, but, on the contrary, grew worse and worse. The host insisted on his guest's acceptance of a lodging for the night, in view of the impossibility of reaching his home.

The guest complied, but in a few minutes was missed from the parlor. In half an hour he re-appeared drenched with rain.

"Where in heaven's name have you been?" asked the host, viewing the singular object, which looked like a dog around the paws, and a weeping-willow around the head.

"I!" said he, quietly shaking off the water, "I have been at home to tell my wife that, as it was such a night, I should not return."

PRAYER.—A writer very correctly remarks: God looks not at the oratory of your prayers, how elegant they may be; nor at the geometry of your prayers, how long they may be; nor at the arithmetic of your prayers, how many they may be; nor at the logic of your prayers, how methodical they may be; but the sincerity of them He looks at.

COMPLIMENTARY.—Don Piatt, the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, calls the Senate of the United States "a dignified body of imbeciles," and says "they resemble a band of thieves dividing their plunder." This is decidedly complimentary on the part of a Radical correspondent of a Radical newspaper.

ERROR CORRECTED.—Lively and healthy ghosts sometimes get the benefit of pathetic obituaries rather prematurely. The Reese River Reveille recently published a notice of the death of J. F. M. Rockafeller, who was reported to have been shot by one R. Kelley, at Treasure City. Rockafeller "still lives," and has proven the falsity of the report by writing the following note to the editor:

TREASURE CITY, March 6, 1869.

EDITOR REVEILLE:—In your issue of March 3d, you say that J. F. M. Rockafeller is dead—shot! I deny that, sir! No, sir! I am not dead, sir! You say I was shot! No, sir! I was not shot, sir! Not more than half shot, sir! You say I was shot in a hurdy-gurdy house. That is the worst part of all that you say. I am not a hurdy-gurdy man, sir! I do not go a hurdy-gurdying, sir! Not any! You say I was shot by Robert Kelly. Robert Kelly is not disposed to shoot people any more than any other man; perhaps not so much as some men; and I assure you, sir, that he did not shoot me, sir, nor have I ever seen any inclination in him to resolve himself into a shooting committee, sir. Please publish this in correction of a few slight errors in your notice of the affair which never happened, sir! And I remain yours, sir.

J. F. M. ROCKAFELLER.

SCARCITY OF CATTLE.—A few men in San Francisco, says the Sacramento Record, own the bulk of all the cattle in California. Slowly but surely for years have they been monopolizing this traffic, while others have neglected it, until within their "ring" is centered the whole power and control of the cattle market. Our butchers and farmers are just beginning to realize the strait into which their neglect has brought them, and to cast about them for some medium of relief. We can conceive of none, excepting that they again commence to import from the East and Texas, as the only field that in any wise is capable of furnishing anything like a supply to equalize our market. The Hon. Jerome C. Davis, who is now at the East, has it in contemplation to return home by way of Texas, and drive hither a large number of cows, with a view once more to stock his range. Others are moving in the same direction, and with their example promptly followed by our stock-raisers generally, we may once more reasonably expect to hail the day when beef will be worth its value as fixed by the demand upon the market, and not as at present by the avidity and cupidity of holders.

WILD GIRLS.—One cannot help being sad and astonished, says the El Dorado, at the the number of young girls who roam the streets, at all hours of the day and night, apparently without homes or kindred. We have seen bands of these little outcasts wandering from place to place, and seemingly at a loss what to do with themselves. Their garments bear the impress of poverty, and their sharp, petulant faces show that they are fast losing that tenderness of thought and feeling with which we are wont to associate the sunny time of girlhood. Evidently they are fast ripening for a career at which we shudder, and unless something is done to amend them, will take their place among the infamous and criminal. Surely, some means might be devised to rescue these little unfortunates from the dangers which beset them! Where are our city missionaries?

POLITE.—Recently a little cross-firing is observable between the editors of several Sacramento papers. The war is carried on, however, in a milder form than is usually the case when editors disagree. Instead of using abrupt terms like "falsehood," "ungentlemanly," "dishonest," etc., they simply reply to alleged questionable statements by asking the question, "Has our cotemporary no conscience?" When the fact is fully ascertained that those in dispute have such articles in their possession, we presume the war will cease, and in their social intercourse the common querry will be not, "How's you health?" but "How's your conscience?"

SAVE THE LOCK.—Burglarious depredations have become so common in Stockton lately that business men are getting used to them. A prominent merchant of that place anticipating a visit of this kind, pasted the following request on his safe door:

Mr. Burglar—Please don't blow this safe open and spoil the lock—you'll find the key in the drawer under the counter.

The Gazette thinks the request a reasonable one.

LOW FARES.—Since the railroad from Sacramento to Vallejo has been established and in running order, the public have enjoyed the benefit of low fares. This fact accounts for the great increase of travel, and no doubt both the river and railroad lines are making more profit than if the fare had remained at the old figure which was regarded as exorbitant.

CALIFORNIA APPOINTMENTS.—Dispatches to the Herald say that it is reported as probable that Gen. Frederick T. Dent, President Grant's brother-in-law, will be commissioned Collector of San Francisco. Frank M. Pixley will be appointed District Attorney of California—of this there is now no doubt.

A MEAN ACT.—The proprietor of a cheap store in Gilroy was recently caught in the act of setting fire to his premises. His property was insured for more than its value. The fire was prevented and the man arrested and lodge in jail.

THE SACK TAX.—One of the most serious causes of complaint with the farmers of this county is the exorbitant prices they are yearly compelled to pay for grain sacks. Any measures that can be adopted to save this expense which so seriously diminishes the farmer's profits will be hailed with pleasure. The Sacramento Bee refers to this subject as follows:

The Valejo elevator, the first upon the Pacific Coast, is progressing toward completion. The piles have all been driven, the foundation laid, and the timbers for the first story are in their place. There is no doubt now that it will be in readiness to handle the grain crop of this year. And what changes will it bring? Elevators do not handle sacks, but grain only, and the question will be, can the bad practice of selling the sacks with the grain be abandoned in the counties of Napa, Yolo and Solano, which must be relied upon to feed this elevator? Will the purchaser buy the wheat and sacks in the field, carry them to Vallejo, and there empty them—or will he buy the wheat only, empty the sacks into close box cars on the railroad, prepared for the purpose, and return the sacks to the farmer? Of course it will be a matter of bargain as to the price of wheat with or without the sacks; but the custom will soon come down to the purchase of the wheat only. These three counties having the elevator to feed can abolish this sack-selling business if they will; but other counties, that cannot reach an elevator directly, cannot do so. We expect to see the cars switched off at the ranches in the counties named, the sacks of grain, by the hundred thousand, emptied into them, and thus loosed it will be handled in bulk and carried in bulk to New York. This sack tax is a great loss to farmers, and yet without elevators we cannot see how it is to be abolished, while with elevators, it is wholly unnecessary. In this view the elevators will benefit the farmers most. Indeed, whatever will cheapen the cost of handling grain enables buyers to give a larger price for it.

GOOD ADVICE.—The Capital Reporter, in referring to the bitter political feeling manifested by Radical journals towards those who differ from them in opinion, says:

We think the time has fully arrived for a burial of the hatchet. "Let us have peace," and instead of desiring a continuance of ill-feeling, let us go to work in good faith, restore cordial and friendly relations among the American people, and exert all of our energies and means in repairing the ravages of the war.

Such advice, if heeded, would indeed prove a great blessing to the whole country. There are some Radical papers, however, whose only forte consists in venting their malicious spleen and personal prejudice against all who do not choose to bow in submission to the ideas of their hypocritical worship, and it is perhaps well enough that an opportunity exists for the public to estimate their full value. While in attempting injury to others they writhe in the atmosphere of their own poison.

ITS EFFECT.—The Golden City thus pictures one of the effects of the proposed Fifteenth Amendment on the moon-eyed Celestials of the Bay City:

John Chinaman is becoming wonderfully Americanized under the liberal provisions of the Fifteenth Amendment. As an evidence of his progress in the arts of civilization, he seems to know just what value to place upon the life of an officer of the law, and can shoot his pistol with as much grace as the best of his white fellow-citizens. The most recent proof of Chinese "manhood" was given on Tuesday last, when one of these Celestials plums deliberately shot at Deputy Sheriff Green, who was endeavoring to arrest an almond-eyed divinity for the trifling offence of bigamy. It was by a mere scratch that the officer escaped with his life. Add this little shooting affair to the attempt which was made by a Chinaman only a few days previously to fire a whole block of buildings, and we have indubitable proofs of the mild manners of these innocent and harmless people.

SISTERS OF CHARITY.—The benevolent sisterhood, who, for long years, have been untiring in their efforts to relieve the distressed in our midst, are justly deserving the following tribute paid them by the Examiner:

For seventeen years the Sisters of Charity have been with us. The incidents of California life have left a larger number of orphans depending on the care of the benevolent than has occurred in any other State of the Union, in proportion to population. The duty of providing these with a home, of maintaining and educating them, has rendered the name of the Sisters of Charity who have nobly filled this trust, a title of respect that will ever be cherished in the hearts of Californians. These devoted women arrived in our city in 1852, after braving the cholera on the Isthmus and losing two of their small number by that scourge at Panama. Some of that number are yet among us, and well do they deserve the title earned by their services—Pioneers of the Cross.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday evening last an explosion of a keg of powder occurred on board the steamer Chrysopolis, near her wharf, at San Francisco. The steamer was crowded with passengers, many of whom had gone aboard at Sacramento for the purpose of participating in the celebration of St. Patrick's Day. When nearing the wharf, and while some parties on board were engaged in firing a salute, the powder in an open keg used for firing, exploded with terrific force, badly burning seventeen persons. The steamer caught fire and it seems almost miraculous that many lives were not lost. The fire was subdued, however, and the wounded properly cared for.

CROPS.—A Sacramentan travelling through Solano county, reports the crops there as in a flourishing condition, and no danger is apprehended from dry weather. Considerable portions of that county heretofore supposed to be without value have recently been found susceptible of a high state of cultivation. The neighborhood of Davisville seems to be in a rapidly improving condition; and a fine silk plantation near that town, embracing one hundred acres of mulberry trees, on which has been expended $50,000, being a prominent feature of the landscape.—[Bee.

RAMIE PLANT.—This valuable substitute for cotton is commanding considerable attention. It is claimed that the plant will yield three or four crops a year.

TOWN AND COUNTY MATTERS.

RAIN.—The siege of north winds which prevailed a few days ago had the effect of drying up and baking the surface of grain lands to such an extent that a painful anxiety was felt for the safety of the crops. In many places it was observed that the growing crops had turned an unhealthy color and were checked in their previous flattering progress. That which so greatly affects the farmer's prospects, and upon which the prosperity of the State itself depends, of course, was the occasion of some despondency, and the weather prophets, with ominous shake of the head, pronounced the coming harvest a failure. All fears, however, have now been banished; false prophets have vanished from sight to consult the oracles in secret, while industrious farmers and business men of all classes are rejoicing in the prospect of a most bountiful harvest. Rain in abundance has fallen to start out and give vigorous root to late sown grain and add renewed life to that which was already above ground in need of moisture. The temperature of the atmosphere and the condition of the soil at the present time could not be more favorable. Thousands of acres, heretofore uncultivated, are covered as if by magic, with a vigorous growth of waving grain, and there is good reason to rejoice in the prospect of a much larger crop than has ever been harvested in the State.

DISTRICT COURT PROCEEDINGS.—The following comprises a part of the proceedings of the District Court during the past week. Anna Tryon vs. J. C. Davis—Continued until next term. Owen Garity vs. E. Patten et. al.—Default of defendants entered. E. H. Cone vs. John Hynes—Continued until next term. S. S. Guile vs. C. Field (two cases)—Motion to consolidate denied. Rebecca T. Tiffe vs. S. W. Taylor—Divorce granted. Caroline Heins. vs. Long Heins—Divorce granted.

SURPRISE PARTY.—Quite a number of ladies and gentlemen, ignoring the formality of previous announcement, met on Thursday evening, and forming themselves into a surprise party, visited A. S. House and lady at their new hotel on Main street. The unexpected visitors were received with hearty welcome by "mine host," who lost no time in making arrangements for their comfort and enjoyment. The spacious dining hall of the hotel was cleared, and soon the elite of Woodland and its surroundings, reinforced by distinguished members of the bar from Sacramento, were gracefully keeping time with the strains of excellent music in a joyful dance. A rich repast prepared by hands skillful in catering to fastidious taste was spread for the occasion, and nothing was left undone to make the affair one of the most pleasant of the season. About twenty couple were present and all seemed highly pleased with the entertainment.

MEETING.—The Chairman and Secretary have issued a call for a meeting of the Democratic County Central Committee at the Court House on Saturday, April 3d. It is to be hoped that every member will be present, as business of importance will be acted upon.

GAME LAW.—The game law, as has been repeatedly announced by the press throughout the State, went into effect on Monday last. Sportsmen will remember that no quail or broad-bill ducks must be killed while the law is in force.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.—The anniversary of St. Patrick, so generally celebrated in the larger cities throughout the land by patriotic Irishmen, passed by without any demonstration in honor of the event in this place.

RETURNED.—R. L. Beamer, an old resident of this place, returned with his family a few days since from a trip to the Atlantic States, where they have been spending a pleasant visit with their friends.

WOOL COMMISSION.—The attention of woolgrowers is directed to the advertisement of Miller & Co., San Francisco, who make liberal advances on consignments.

DIED.—Dr. B. M. Esterle, who formerly resided at Washington, in this county, died of apoplexy at Shasta on Tuesday last.

IN TOWN.—A crowd of visitors having business in the District Court, has thronged our streets during the week.

RETIRED.—Charles L. Weller has retired from the San Francisco Examiner, having disposed of his interest in the same. The paper is now on a safe foundation financially, and much of its success is due to Colonel Weller. May success attend him in any undertaking he may engage in.—[Capital Reporter.

ODD FELLOWSHIP.—Extensive preparation is being made in San Francisco to celebrate the coming anniversary of the introduction of Odd Fellowship in the United States, (April 26th.)

ADVANCED AGE.—Mrs. Thompson, of Lake county, died recently, at the age of one hundred and eleven years.

The Amador mine, for the month of February, produced sixty-five thousand six hundred dollars.

Thomas N. Casneau has been appointed State Stamp Inspector.

John Williams was fined $75 for a brutal assault upon a Chinaman in San Francisco.

A horrible attempt was made to poison a whole family in San Francisco last Tuesday.

A flume tender at Smartsville fell into a flume and was carried nearly a mile and finally drowned.

WANTED—A life-boat that will float on a "sea of troubles."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

[From the new "Dominion."]

At this season, when coughs and colds are so prevalent, an effectual remedy, and one easily obtained, is Perry Davis Vegetable "Pain Killer." It is no new nostrum, vended by unknown agents, but has stood the test of over twenty years, and those who use the article, internally or externally, will connect with it grateful recollections of its worthy inventor.—[Hastings' Chronicle, C. W.

PAIN KILLER.—The testimonials borne to the efficacy of this valuable medicine are sufficient to warrant its introduction in every house. Our own opinion is that no family should be without a bottle of it for a single hour. In flesh wounds, aches, pains, sores, etc., it is the most effectual remedy we know of. A bottle will last for a very long time, and its low price places it within the reach of all.—[St. John News.

We are glad to learn that the "Pain Killer" is having so large a sale in our city. We have every reason to believe it to be an almost never failing cure for pain, and a medicine that no family should be without.—[Montreal Pilot.

THE GREAT MODERN SPECIFIC.—"Nothing new under the sun," said Solomon. "History repeats itself," says a modern essayist. Every day some sententious fellow or another insists that the present is indebted for every so-called "new idea" to the past. Some folks go so far as to believe that there is an allusion to the iron horse of the railroad in the old testament. But where, among the mists of antiquity is the prototype of the Plantation Bitters to be discovered, that stimulant without a sting, that tonic without one injurious or even questionable element to interfere with its perfect work of physical regeneration? In a general way the sages of long ago recommended vegetable remedies for the "healing of the nations," but it was not till this incomparable Vegetable Elixir was introduced, that the desired object was attained. It is the best combination of tonic and alterative botanic materials that the world has ever seen.

ELECTRO SILICON.—This curious and valuable substance is confidently claimed to be the BEST ARTICLE ever discovered for cleaning and polishing Gold, Silver and Plated Ware, and all smooth metallic surfaces, of whatever description, including kitchen utensils of tin, copper, brass, steel, etc.

TO HEADS OF FAMILIES.—Are your little ones subject to croup? If so, don't fail to use NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP. A few doses given in time MAY SAVE THE LIFE OF A DARLING CHILD. Do not fail to have it on hand, if you would be safe and free from anxiety.

"IN TIME OF PEACE PREPARE FOR WAR."—So get a bottle of DR. E. COOPER'S UNIVERSAL MAGNETIC BALM, an unequalled preparation for Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cramp. The instantaneous relief for Burns, Bruises and Sprains.

The Reasons for Insuring
—IN THE—
NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL
Life Insurance Company,
OF BOSTON.

By the Acts of Massachusetts, incorporated into the General Statutes of 1860 and 1864, a Policy of Life Insurance for the benefit of a Married Woman, or any person or persons specified, goes to them independently of the debts and liabilities of the party who effects the policy.

An Act to Regulate the Forfeiture of Policies of Life Insurance.

Be it Enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1.—No Policy of Insurance on Life, hereafter issued by any Company chartered by the authority of this Commonwealth, shall be forfeited or become void by the non-payment of premium thereon, any further than regards the right of the party insured therein to have it continued in force beyond a certain period, to be determined as follows, to-wit: The net value of the policy, when the premium becomes due and is not paid, shall be ascertained, according to the "combined experience" or "actuaries'" rate of mortality, with interest at four per cent. per annum. After deducting from such net value any indebtedness to the company or notes held by the company against the insured, which notes if given for premium shall then be canceled, four-fifths of what remains shall be considered as a net single premium of temporary insurance, and the term for which it will insure shall be determined according to the age of the party at the time of the lapse of the premium, and the assumptions of mortality and interest aforesaid.

SECTION 2.—If the death of the party occur within the term of temporary insurance covered by the value of the policy, as determined in the previous section, and if no condition of the insurance, other than the payment of premium shall have been violated by the insured, the company shall be bound to pay the amount of the policy the same as if there had been no lapse of premium, anything in the policy to the contrary notwithstanding: provided, however, that notice of the claim and proof of the death shall be submitted to the company within ninety days after decease; and provided, also, that the company shall have the right to deduct from the amount insured in the policy the amount at six per cent. per annum of the premiums that had been forborne at the time of the death.

That is driving the men all mad?
They are leaving the town by the hundreds,
It is getting so very bad.

Yes, they are leaving the town for the mountain,
They are all going off to the mine,
For the terrible fever that's driving them mad,
Is the rich silver ore at White Pine.

The ore is so rich they can't break it,
At least that is what people say,
And there is silver enough to settle the debt
Of the United States to-day.

Oh, yes! to the mines in the mountains
The men are all going pell-mell,
But I fear they will find when they get there,
White Pine is a terrible sell.

Though the silver be there in abundance,
They'll have lawsuits about every cent;
And when they've all paid their lawyers,
They will come back as poor as they went.

The lawyers may all make a fortune,
I really expect that they will;
And I think they'll do very much better
Than those with the pick and the drill.

DRUNK.—Young man, did you ever stop to think how terrible that word sounds? Did you ever think what misery and woe you brought upon your friends when you degraded your manhood by getting drunk? Oh, it is a fearful thing to trample under foot the high claims that God and man have upon you. Drunk! How it rings in the ear of the loving wife! How it makes the heart of a fond mother bleed! How it crushes out the hopes of a doting father, and brings reproach and shame upon loving sisters. Drunk! See him as he leans against some friendly house. He stands ready to fall into the open jaws of hell, unconscious of his approaching fate. The wife, with tearful eyes and aching heart, sits at the window to hear her husband's footsteps, but alas, they come not? He is drunk! The husband, the parent is drunk, spending his time and money, when he should be at home enjoying the pleasures and comfort of the family circle. Drunk! Spending the means of support for liquor, while his family is starving for bread, his children suffering for clothing. Drunk! His reputation is gone! His friends, one by one, are reluctantly leaving him to his fate. He goes down to his grave "unhonored and untouched." Drunk!

THE German papers mention a melancholy case of suicide and filial devotion. A widow had two sons, the eldest of whom supported the family. He was recently ordered to join the army, having fallen into the conscription. The younger brother, feeling himself unable to support his mother, shot himself through the heart, thereby liberating the elder from military service on account of his being a widow's only son.

THEY evidently "live" in Chicago. The following are the headings of a single paper on one day: "More Bloody Affrays;" "Deadly Weapons;" "The Axe, the Revolver, and Beer Mugs;" "The Head of a Detective Laid Open by Blows from a Hatchet;" "Shooting of a White Boy by a Negro in Clark street;" "A Bar-tender Badly Pounded with Beer Glasses."

A LADY gave a fancy ball not long since, and in order to be distinguished, placed a servant at the door to announce the costumes as they entered. A couple of ladies appeared in full ball-room dress. "What costume shall I announce?" asked the servant. "We are not in costume," they replied. "Two ladies without costume," shouted the servant, to the horror of everybody.

AT a Sunday school concert at Melrose, some time since, as was the custom, all present were invited to recite some passage of scripture. A young fellow who wished to create some merriment, responded by rising and saying, "Judas went out and hung himself." A young lady immediately arose and recited the selection, "Go thou and do likewise."

A GOOD story is told of a hard-shell Baptist missionary in Medina, who had become mixed up in land speculations in Minnesota. On entering his pulpit recently, he announced to his congregation at the opening of divine service, that his text would be found in "St. Paul's epistle to the Minnesotians, section four, range three, west."

A THRESHING machine, recently patented and now manufactured in Philadelphia, threshes the grain without breaking the straw. This at least is claimed for it by its inventor. Unbroken straw commands a much higher price in city markets than that which is broken and tangled.

AN observing individual in a very healthy village, seeing the sexton at work in a hole in the ground, inquired what he was about. "Digging a grave, Sir." "Digging a grave! why, I thought people didn't die often here, do they?" "Oh, no, sir; they never die but once."

"I SAY, Mr. Pilot, ain't you going to start soon?" said a nervous traveler on a steamboat lying-to during a fog. "As soon as the fog clears up," replied the captain. "Well, it's star-light now overhead," said the man. "Oh, yes, but we are not going that way."

VERY TOUCHING and beautiful were the words of the old schoolmaster, as life passed away! "It is growing dark—the school may be dismissed." Down to the very gates of an unseen world he carried his love and regard for the children whom he had trained.

A SCOTCHMAN went to a lawyer once for advice, and detailed the circumstances of the case. "Have you told me the facts precisely as they occurred?" said the lawyer. "Oh, ay, sir," rejoined he; "I thought it best to tell ye the plain truth; ye can put the lies in yourself."

AN indulgent father urged an indolent son to rise. "Remember," said he, "that the early bird catches the worm." "What do I care for worms?" growled the youth; "mother won't let me go fishin'."

THE following error in punctuation is a good illustration of the use of the comma. At a banquet this toast was given: "Woman—without her man, is a brute."

A LAZY fellow begged alms, saying that he could not find bread for his family. "Nor I," replied an industrious mechanic; "I am obliged to work for it."

FOUR things that come not back—the spoken word, the sped arrow, the past life, and the neglected opportunity.

THE rifle of Kit Carson, the veteran scout of the plains, has been presented to a Masonic Lodge at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

IN returning thanks to an after dinner speech, Brown declared that he was "too full for utterance."

TENEMENT that is not occupied half the time—The room for improvement.

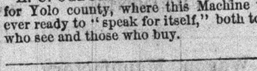
$1.000 Reward for its Equal!



THE NEW

WEED SEWING MACHINE!

Just completed, in SOLID STEEL MACHINERY, and combining in ONE the good of ALL!

This most enterprising Company has certainly brought out

THE BEST SEWING MACHINE EVER MADE!

And indeed is the ONLY NEW Sewing Machine, of any name, manufactured for the last eight years. Even a superficial observer can easily see that it surpasses all others, at least in the simplicity and durability of its machinery, and its remarkable EASE OF MOTION AND MANAGEMENT.

It has few pieces, and all of steel. It makes the complete "Lock Stitch," the same on both sides, which will not ravel. Every Machine is warranted to sew from Thinest Lace, to Double Harness Leather!

and of course can never be got out of order by "hard sewing." ☞ All repairs free of charge. Prices same as others.

PLEASE NOTICE.

The claims of the Florence Company for the First Premium at the great Paris Exposition of 1867, though seeming true in letter, is really false in spirit and intent, and calculated greatly to deceive the public. Although it did receive the Silver Medal—that being the highest award given—it was not awarded the FIRST RANK! This was awarded the Weed Sewing Machine, and to the WEED only, as being "first in the order of merit." The second place was given to an European Machine, and only the third to the Florence! But the claim of the Wheeler & Wilson Company, at this Fair, is a great outrage, both as to letter and spirit; at least so much of it as pertains to their Gold Medal upon their Family Machine, which, to speak plain, is purely imaginary, they having received—as is well known—their Gold Medal on their "Button-hole Machine," but nothing at all on their "Family Machine;" not even a bronze medal, nor indeed (what is worse) even an "honorable mention." (See official report.) See also, as to the new WEED Sewing Machine, the returns of the State Fairs of Pennsylvania, Illinois, New Hampshire and New York, for 1867, at each of which the NEW WEED "F. F." Sewing Machine was pronounced the BEST, and received the highest premium given. And so also at other Fairs, and indeed wherever the Company shall choose to exhibit the "strong points" of this really magnificent Machine.

G. J. OVERSHINER,

CARRIAGE AND WAGON MANUFACTURER,

Main street, (opposite Gray & Freeman's,)

I would call the attention of the public to this well-knowu shop, where I manufacture to order and keep constantly on hand for sale

Carriages,
Buggies,

CONCORD-STYLE THOROUGHBRACE

—AND—

LUMBER WAGONS,

—FROM THE—

BEST EASTERN MATERIAL,

Selected by myself!

All work manufactured at my shop is under my own immediate supervision, and up to the requirements of the times, of the latest style, and the most

APPROVED PATTERNS AND FINISH!

I employ no "foreman," for 30 years' experience in the trade—10 years in the Eastern States, 20 years on the Pacific coast, (including 9 years superintendence of the "Pioneer Carriage Shop," Sacramento,) justifies me in assuming that position. Delegating to none the supervision of my work, I am enabled to Guarantee Satisfaction!

My LARGE and SPACIOUS SHOPS enable me to store large quantities of material, and my

SEASONING FACILITIES,

(the only perfect seasoning apparatus on the coast) enable me to defy competition in quality of seasoned work. For verification of above, one has only to examine my facilities in this line, and compare them with those in other shops. I do not pursue the course adopted by many; on the contrary, I season stock before working, and do not put up green stock in wheels, leaving them to season afterwards. I have and keep on hand a large stock of

OAK and HICKORY SPOKES,

of all sizes and the finest material the market affords. Also a large variety of Elm and Locust Hubs.

Having given the Oak Hub a fair trial, I have become convinced that they are unfit for first-class work. Parties who may favor me with their patronage may be assured that

No green oak hubs will be found in my work!

In this connection I would call particular attention to my NEW STYLE LOCUST HUB, turned from my pattern, and imported expressly for this trade and Found only at my Shop!

Also made to order all kinds of

FARMING IMPLEMENTS!

Plows,
Harrows, &c

I have now on hand Harrows of all sizes, with STEEL TEETH, superior to the imported article. In short, I am prepared to fill all orders, from a Wheelbarrow to a Hornet's Nest.

The PAINTING and TRIMMING DEPARTMENT is equal to the best, and particular attention is paid to repairing and trimming old work.

BLACKSMITHING,

In all its branches, is connected with the wood-work, and both are under my supervision.

I have on hand, for sale,

Plow-beams and Handles,
Neckyokes,
Singletrees,
Stretchers,
Clevises,
Fifth-chains,
Lap-Rings,
Harrow-Teeth,
Etc., Etc.

All kinds of Plow and Wagon repairing done with neatness and dispatch. Determined to adhere to my long-established rule of manufacturing only the Best Work from the Best Stock, and having served my time at the two branches of carriage-work, (wood and iron) enables me to guarantee satisfaction in all cases, and to know, as foreman of my own shop, when work is WELL DONE.

To those who have heretofore dealt at other shops, and consequently are unacquainted with my work, I would say GIVE ME A CALL and examine my stock and work. Believing that the surest test of the value of my work can be had in the verdict of those who use it, I respectfully refer the public to

The following named Gentlemen who have and now are using Wagons and Buggies of my manufacture: E. Giddings, J. Laugenour, J. Aldrich, Mr. High, H. Rhoades, Mr. Taylor, J. Jones, L. B. Ruggles, Gray & Freeman, J. Garoutte, Fleishman & Kaufman, Ed. Moses, S. & M. Hyman, George Scott, Mr. Ludden, Mr. Olds, Mr. Lusk, Mr. Hurlbut, R. Fritz, J. Lane, Wm. Davidson, and a host of others whose names can be given if required

☞ Thankful for past patronage, I respectfully solicit a continuance of the favor.

HELMBOLD'S BUCHU.

The only Known Remedy

—FOR—

Diabetes, Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, Inflamation of the Kidneys, Catarrh of the Bladder, &c., &c., &c.

For these diseases, it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. Are you troubled with that disgusting pain in the small of the back and through the hips? A teaspoonful a day of Helmbold's Buchu will relieve you.

Physicians and Others

PLEASE NOTICE.

I make no secret of ingredients. Helmbold's Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs and Juniper Berries, selected with care, prepared in vacuo and according to the rules of Pharmacy and Chemistry.

These ingredients are known as the most valuable Diuretics afforded. A Diuretic is that which acts upon the Kidneys. Helmbold's Extract Buchu acts gently. It is pleasant in taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action. For the satisfaction of all, see Medical Properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:

"BUCHU. Its odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic, its taste bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, chronic catarrh of the Bladder, morbid irritation of the Bladder and Uretha, diseases of the Prostrate, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, chronic Rheumatism, cutaneous affections and Dropsy."

For further information see Professor DEWEES valuable works on the Practice of Physic. His remarks made by the celebrated Dr. Physic, of Philadelphia. See any and all standard works on Medicine.

Dr. Keyser is a physician of over thirty years experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical college and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia:

Mr. H. T. HELMBOLD—Dear Sir: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys; and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts. I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture fluid extracts; and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Eighteen years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality I give yours precedence over all others. I value your Buchu for its effects on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietory compound of whatever name. Respectfully yours, etc.,

GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D., 140 Wood st.
Pittsburg, Pa., August 11, 1865.

FROM THE LARGEST MANUFACTURING CHEMIST IN THE WORLD.

I am acquainted with H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the drug store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN, (firm of Powers & Weightman), Manufacturing chemists, Ninth and Brown streets, Phila.

The proprietor has been induced to make this statement from the fact that his remedies, although advertised, are genuine preparations, and knowing that the intelligent refrain from using anything pertaining to Quackery, or the Patent Medicine order—most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, who are too ignorant to read a physicians' simplest prescription, much less competent to prepare Pharmaceutical preparations. These parties resort to various means of effecting sales, such as copying parts of advertisements of popular remedies and finishing with certificates. The science of medicine stands simple, pure and majestic, having fact for its basis, induction for its pillar, truth alone for its capital.

A Word of Caution.

Health is most important; and the afflicted should not use an advertised medicine, or any remedy, unless its contents or ingredients are known to others besides the manufacturer, or until they are satisfied of the qualifications of the party so offering.
